

Add Dates to the Showtimes

The 1PM showing and the 7:30PM showing are 5 days apart, but there's no way of knowing that by looking at this screen.

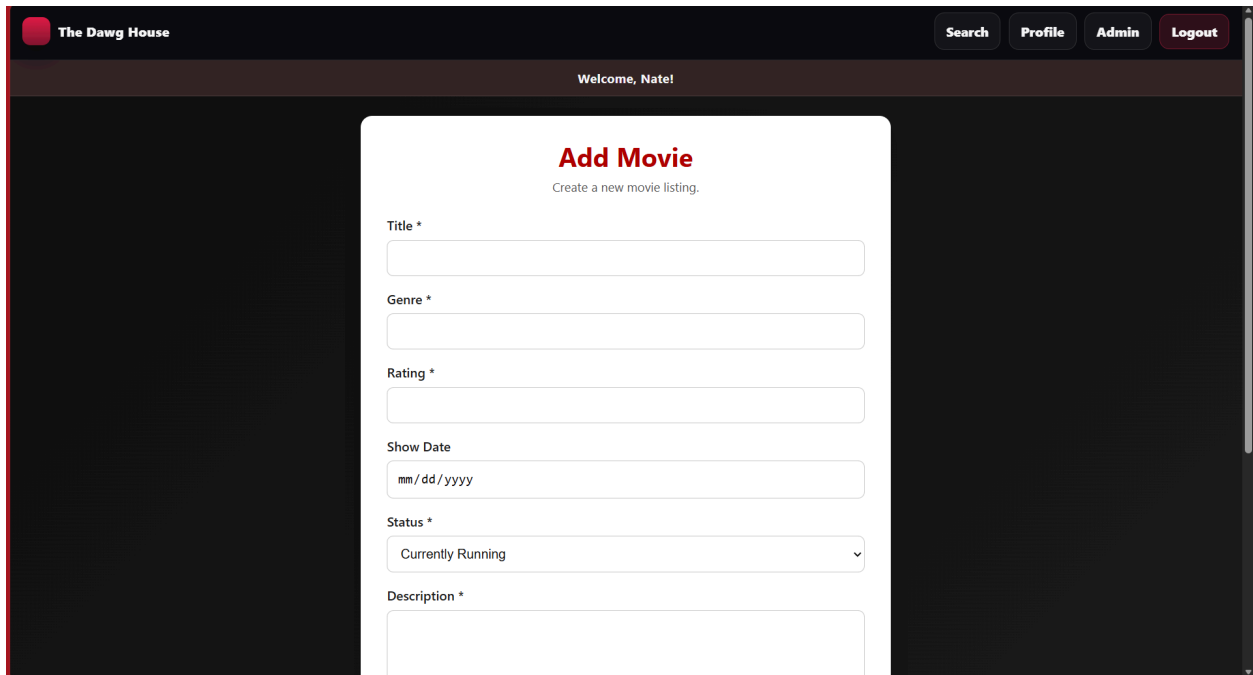

Adding a Movie Automatically Gives it Fake Showtimes

```
mysql> SELECT * FROM `show` WHERE movie_id = (
    -> SELECT movie_id FROM movie WHERE title = 'Goldfinger');
Empty set (0.00 sec)

mysql> |

I added this movie through the admin portal, and these 3 showtimes automatically show up. These showtimes were not added by the admin, and are not in the database at all.

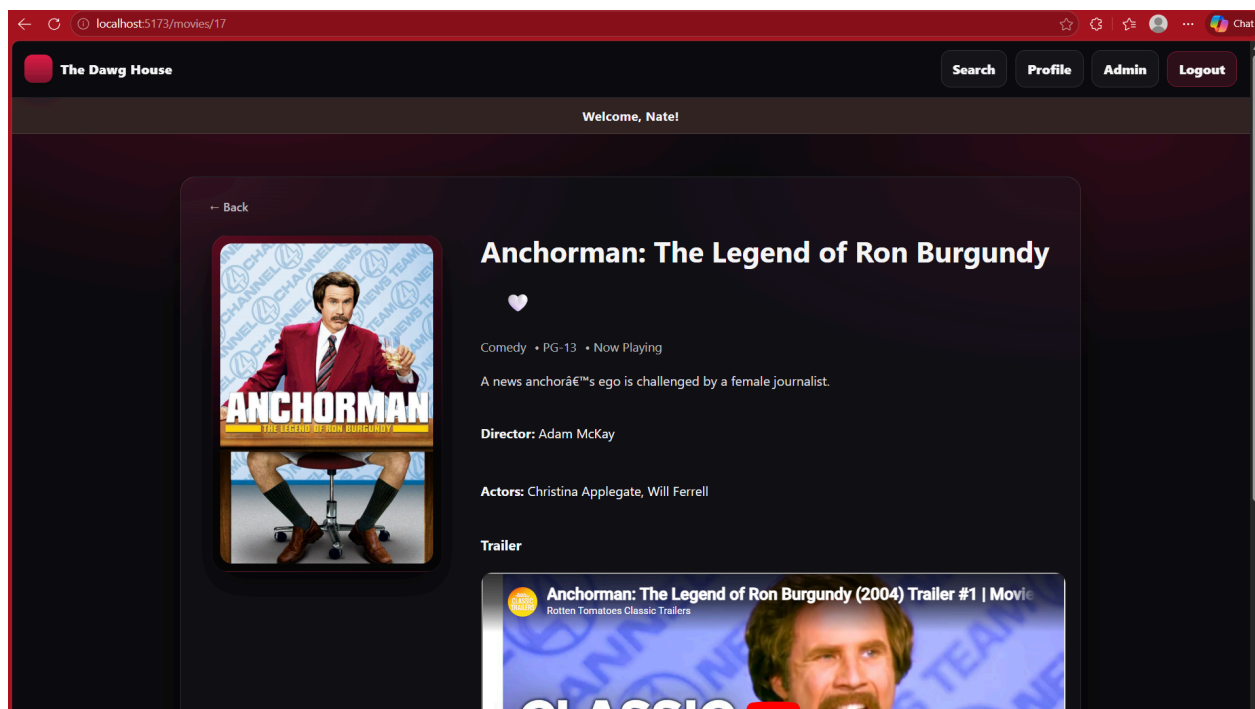

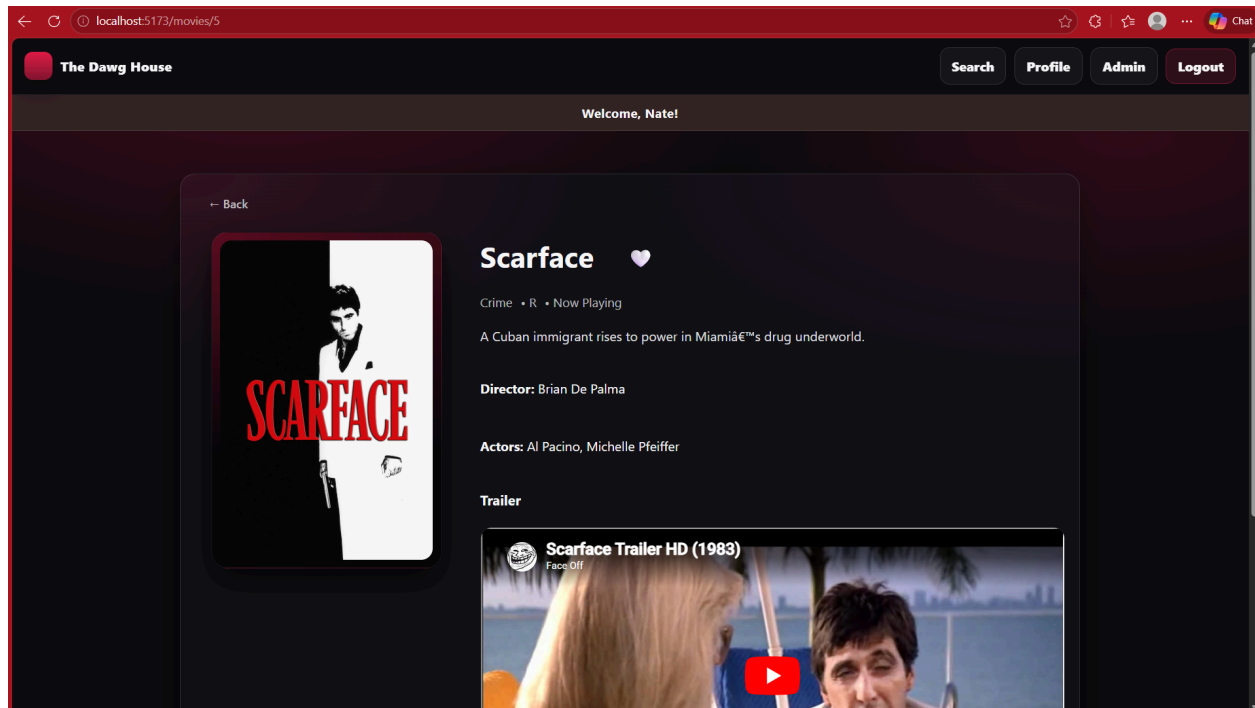

Unable to Add Movie Contributors

The screenshot shows a web application interface for 'The Dawg House'. The top navigation bar is dark with a logo and the text 'The Dawg House'. On the right side of the navigation bar are four buttons: 'Search', 'Profile', 'Admin', and 'Logout'. Below the navigation bar, a dark banner displays 'Welcome, Nate!'. The main content area features a white card titled 'Add Movie' in red text, with the subtitle 'Create a new movie listing.' in smaller grey text. The card contains several form fields: 'Title *' (text input), 'Genre *' (text input), 'Rating *' (text input), 'Show Date' (text input with a placeholder 'mm / dd / yyyy'), 'Status *' (a dropdown menu currently showing 'Currently Running'), and 'Description *' (a large text area). The background of the page is dark.

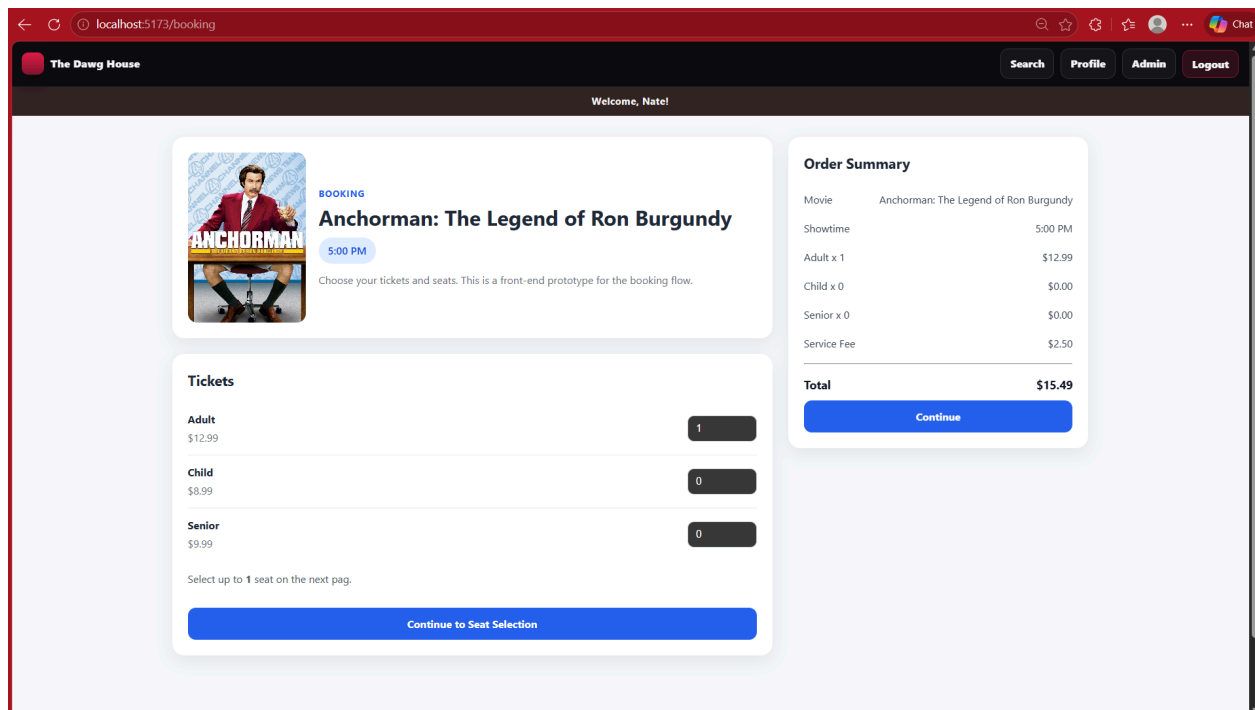

I think there should be a field for adding movie contributors on this “Add Movie” page. There is currently no way to add movie contributors to a new or an existing movie.

Weird Text Error That Happens With Apostrophes

Apostrophes don't display correctly.

The "Continue" Button on Order Summary Doesn't Do Anything

I don't know what the blue "Continue" button is for, but it doesn't do anything when clicked. Seems like we could probably just get rid of that since we already have the "Continue to Seat Selection" button.
